Interim

By Maggie Lanting

During the past two weeks, the students at HCHS have had the privilege of taking an interim class called Practical Theology. Our area ministers, Rev. Allen Brummel, Rev. Nathan Brummel, and Rev. Jai Mahtani, as well as Professor Herman Hanko and Mr. Ralph Medema have been teaching us various aspects of Practical Theology, such as Christian philosophy, missions, worldview, discipleship, and prayer.

We were taught essential facts that will help us throughout our lives. As students in a small high school, interim also enabled us to experience the unique teaching style of the ministers who visited us. We enjoyed the break from our usual routine and the stimulating lessons and discussions of our interim speakers.

Having Prof. Hanko as a speaker was a special treat for the students of Heritage, as we don't have the privilege of hearing him speak on a regular basis. Prof. Hanko is one of few speakers that can capture the attention of a room full of drowsy teenagers and keep them interested in what he has to say. Through his wit, stories, and examples, we students retained his lessons on prayer and its vital importance to our lives.

Overall, interim was a fun and memorable experience. From devotions and singing with the entire student body, to Rev. Mahtani and Prof. Hanko donning Heritage T-shirts during lunch hour after a lively "mini" Ping-Pong match, this year's interim is something we will never forget.
